Madico, Inc. manufactures and distributes a suite of safety and security window films and anchoring restraint systems that help mitigate property damage and personal injury resulting from shattered glass caused by natural or manmade disasters.

Madico's SafetyShield and Protekt films have been tested to numerous government and industry related standards to ensure products performance during natural disasters, bomb blast and industrial explosions. In order to achieve the maximum level of safety & security, attachment restraint systems may be required with the safety film application. Madico distributes four types of restraint systems: FrameGard, GullWing, LifeLine and Wet Glaze. Each product has been rigorously and successfully tested.

SafetyShield & Protekt films in conjunction with anchoring restraint systems, safeguard many of the world's leading commercial and government buildings. Madico's enduring relationship with such organizations as the Protecting People First Foundation ensures it will to continue to approach product development with the imagination, experience and responsibility that has made Madico today's industry leader.
