United States Bullet Proofing was founded by people who believed that they could build the best quality and features in the business at the most competitive price. Our job is Protecting People and Property®, and we take that responsibility very seriously as evident in the quality products we manufacture. Our products are in use around the world protecting officials in the highest levels of government and industry.

United States Bullet Proofing offers one of the largest lines of Bullet, Blast and Forced Entry Resistant Doors, Windows and Wall Systems. Our doors and windows are manufactured from aluminum or steel. In terms of ballistic resistance, our systems can withstand up to a UL 752 Level 8 condition. Our blast capability exceeds the highest General Service Administration Level D requirement. With regard to forced entry protection, we are proud to be one of only four companies in the world certified by the Department of State to build forced entry resistant windows and doors for overseas posts.

Whether your application requires a standard product or customized design-build, United States Bullet Proofing is standing by. We offer the expertise, commitment and innovation that has earned us a reputation as an industry leader.
